

AUDITION NOTICE
DBQ One Acts (Dubuque Fine Arts Players)
41st Annual National One-Act Playwriting Contest
Performances of Winning Plays

1st place: Provenance by Ian Patrick Williams of Studio City, CA, directed by Teresa Fairchild

A near-homicidal art collecting Wall Street guy confronts the forger whose fake painting he bought. Turns out the art forger might have a few lessons for the Wall Street guy.

- 1 male, can play 30s to 50s smart finance guy
- 1 female, can play 60+ bohemian artist

2nd place: The Sad Truth About Country Songs by Stephen Gracia of Brooklyn, NY, directed by Jennifer Maki

A play about unconditional love, deciding what's most important in life, and truth. A mother and son have a brief reunion as a harsh reality races to their door step.

- 1 male, can play late 30s
- 1 female, can play 60s

3rd place: Best Friends' Rule by Patricia Motto of Elmhurst, IL, directed by Mary Auman

Jess, an actress, and Ricky, an actor turned accountant, have been best friends since high school. Each of them face a major decision relying on the Best Friends' Rule. The play is both a serious and comic exploration of loyalty and friendship with a compelling plot and great dialogue.

- 1 female, can play attractive actress, late 20s to late 30s
- 1 male, can play gay male actor turned accountant, late 20s to late 30s
